Alderman Leonard voted at considerable length in favor of the higher offices, and was in favor of reducing the salaries of the higher offices, such as the Street Commissioner, Comptroller, and in favor of increasing the salaries of the street inspectors, captains of the works, and the watchmen.

The ordinance was passed. After which the ordinance to regulate the Water Works of the City of New York was laid up by sections, and after considerable debate and a great number of amendments, the ordinance was finally passed. At 11 o'clock, Alderman Leonard moved that the N.Y. Gas Company be required to place lamps in East Broadway, according to contract, adopted.

Adjoined to Monday next.

S. C. CIRCUIT COURT.—Before Judge Betts.—

The jury term opened this morning. The criminal calendar consists of 96 charges of assault with dangerous weapons, 5 cases of robbery, 1 person. 4 cases of larceny, 1 horse killed by horse, 1 case of arson, 1 case of forgery, 1 case of larceny, 1 case of grand larceny, 1 case of larceny.

John Jones, 100, of 12th Street, 12th Street, was charged.

John Jones, 100, of 12th Street, 12th Street, was charged.

In the same court, an action of replevin was brought by Solomon M. Pike against Jacob Acker, late Sheriff. The plaintiff had been a member of the firm of Cromelin Brothers & Co., wine dealers. They dissolved, and Mr. Pike took house and store No. 34 Bowery, where he was struck upon by process against the firm for a debt of between $800 and $1000. He always signed his name S. M. Pike, and generally went by the name of Samuel M. Pike, and in this name the execution was made out. Mr. Pike composed a note to his attorney, in which his affidavit was filed up (taken by the Attorney, from the process) Samuel and plaintiff had signed it. The replevin is based on the idea that a process against Samuel M. Pike could not be served upon Solomon M. Pike. The affidavit, however, was fatal, and a nonsuit was allowed.

In the Common Pleas action was brought by Nath'l G. Jaguthsingh & Son, Uttope, who received $100, according to agreement, for freight, left at store No. 235 Greenwich street. Payment was returned on the ground that the landlord had claimed them. This is the landlord denied, plaintiff for plaintiff.
